

OUTSTANDING PERSONALITIES

BAY St. Louis has more than the ordinary share of its brilliant and capable women, who fill different spheres of endeavor.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, president State Parent-Teachers' Association, who not only was active in the major deliberations of that body in its meet at Laurel Monday and Tuesday but whose work was outstanding and stamped her both as an executive of the highest type and one whose ability was ever outstanding. Mrs. McDonald has served locally in various ways and ever with success and distinction. Her reward is results; to aid and build and to co-operate with all agencies for the betterment of boys and girls who will be the men and women of tomorrow.

IT was also interesting to note that Mrs. C. C. Clark, resident of Bay St. Louis four years, now resident of Waynesboro, was active to the extent that she presided at sessions of the P. T. A. on both days and participated in the program. Bay St. Louis friends send congratulatory messages to this charming and accomplished woman on the occasion of her success.

ANOTHER outstanding woman of this community known as the Bay-Waveland section is Mrs. A. F. Fournier, local president of King's Daughters and president of State King's Daughters and Sons, not only known over the State but nationally so for her unceasing and effective work.

Mrs. Fournier is another recognized club woman over the state. Her work in conventions and all during the year is marked by both ability and capacity and it is amazing how much she accomplishes. In addition, like the ladies mentioned above, she attends to home and other domestic duties.

MRS. Lillie K. Leonard, representing the Order of Eastern Star has brought forth the name of Bay St. Louis in her sphere of fraternal work to all parts of Mississippi and no woman is better known. Mrs. Leonard is an intense worker; conscientious well high to a fault and unselfish in every instinct that prompts her dynamic activities. Mrs. Leonard has worked in various civic, social and fraternal endeavors. Today, with Spartan-like courage, she has forsaken the comforts of a luxurious home on the Mississippi river and personally manages a vast business which she owns in New Orleans. Sacrificing all attractions of social life and pleasures and has well evidenced her ability as a business woman at the head of a big department store. Mrs. Leonard is an interesting personality and her work written would read like romance of big things.

LAST week marked the second year of weekly contribution week after week to the columns of The Sea Coast Echo known as "Saunterings—From Where the West Begins," and subscribers by the hundreds look for this versatile column with anticipation. The second anniversary is noteworthy due to the fact that the accomplished young author, John T. Meyers, who resides at San Antonio, the land of the Aztecs and where romance and history abounds possibly more than any other one spot in America, has never missed an issue, although a busy man with his newspaper and other literary work. Mr. Meyers never fails to write a story of some subject or occurrence from "Where the West Begins." In addition he is a commentator of national current events, thus making his column doubly interesting. His manner of writing intrigues the interest of the reader at once and holds it down to the last line of the column. It might be interesting to note this column is written each week exclusively for Echo readers and is not syndicated matter. May we be privileged to print this column many more anniversaries.

ANOTHER contributor to the columns of The Sea Coast Echo is well known by the boxed heading, "Merely Theoretical," and this, too, is not a syndicated contribution as too many are wont to believe.

Mr. George E. Schilling is a resident of Waveland and well known locally. A scholar, traveler and writer. He has held several positions of high calibre, which, by his scholarly attainments, he is eminently fitted.

His last calling was that of purely local as superintendent of Waveland schools. He is a world-wide traveler, has visited all parts and resided in different sections of the world. He speaks various languages. "Merely Theoretical" is a feature well worthy of perusal and carries with it much thought.

While this column this week takes the place of that of Mr. Meyers' it is not permanent, but merely transitory, substituting for "Saunterings" appearing back for this week only in its former position on the editorial page. This caused by the different make-up and size of The Echo.

"MOLLERE WANTS TO TALK TURKEY WITH YOU," SAYS MERCHANT

"Lower Prices Prevail This Season," Says C. B. Mollere—Thanksgiving Turkey and Trimmings Cheaper Than Ever

C. B. Mollere, owner and operator of Mollere's Groceries, extensively known and widely-patronized, chooses an appropriate subject for his advertisement which appears regularly in The Echo and looked for weekly by our many readers in Bay-Waveland district and over Hancock county and adjacent territory. He wants to talk turkey with you. He says prevailing prices are lower than ever. He is making a special effort to bring to you all holiday specialties at gigantic savings. He says "You'll find it wise to do your Thanksgiving grocery buying" at his place.

Further: "Do your Thanksgiving buying now. Don't wait until the last minute to purchase holiday plum pudding, fig pudding, mince meat and cranberry sauce. Also: Allspice, paprika, cloves and all kinds of fruit cake ingredients." And order your turkey now.

Read Mollere's ads in the newspaper each week. It not only pays to advertise but pays to buy from the advertiser.

PAST MATRON'S CLUB

The Past Matron's Club of Coast Chapter, No. 51, Order of Eastern Star, Gulfport, is exemplifying the old ritual in the initiatory work Friday evening, November 23.

An invitation is extended to all members of Bay Chapter, No. 129, Bay St. Louis, to be present.

Mrs. Robert Condon, residing in New Orleans.

Outside of ten years spent at Biloxi, where and during which time he was in business at Biloxi, Mr. Bourgeois has made Waveland his home, owning a splendid building in Waveland avenue. He has always been a booster for this section and with the earnest and consistent cooperation, he says, of everybody he will be able to accomplish much for his town. He says Waveland is on the eve of a great development and an era of substantial prosperity and he realizes that it will be necessary for a perfect co-operation of proper spirit. While he believes in economy, he says, it must not be done at the expense of retarding the town's growth. Improvements within bounds is an important factor in his plans for the immediate future.

LOCAL ENTOMOLOGIST IS SPEAKER BEFORE BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB

Fred A. Wright, Recently Returned From Apple Growing Section, Talks About Mission

The group of business and professional men composing Bay St. Louis Rotary Club assembled Tuesday night at The Answer in regular supper-meeting were absorbed in the talk given by Fred A. Wright, government entomologist, long resident of Bay St. Louis, and recently returned from a stay of some five months at Orleans, Ind.

Mr. Wright was engaged in the work of experimental endeavor, ascertaining the best way of eradicating the codling bug, arch enemy of the apple. Since the Pure Food and Drug Commission has utterly tabooed the use of spraying apples with arsenate lead it devotes growers and orchard owners to ascertain effective means at minimum cost of fighting the worm that burrows into the apple and soon causes it to fall already damaged.

He, with other government men, spent their time in experiments and found that one of the effective ways was the setting of a light enclosed in wire cage-like enclosures, charged with electricity and which killed the bug and other pestiferous insects of the air the moment forming contact with electrically-charged wires. However, Mr. Wright said, this might not be the cheapest and only way, but was one of the various methods. He could give no opinion or decision. That, he said, would come from headquarters at Washington, after the findings of this special group, of which he was a member, would be studied and given out officially.

He said the apple orchard was one of the largest and that a regularly-employed chemist had office on the grounds. Apples were never of all of one kind. For instance, it would be necessary to have the Winesaps, Davis and other well known kinds to form a successful orchard in order to procure the proper polinization. All of one kind the crop would prove a failure.

Conference Returns Rev. J. E. Gray To Methodist Church

At the recent annual conference of the Methodist church in Mississippi when appointments were made for the new year, it was gratifying to subsequently learn that our own Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor First Methodist church, Main street, had been re-assigned to Bay St. Louis for another year, making his third.

Rev. C. C. Clark, whom Rev. Gray succeeded in Bay St. Louis has also been re-assigned, returning to his charge at Waynesboro, Miss.

Rev. Gray has proven himself a worthy citizen, a good friend and a man of broad vision, thus having the friendship of all who know him and the community in general. The Echo welcomes his return to Bay St. Louis.

His talk was exceedingly interesting and we regret space forbids giving a write-up of wider scope on so interesting a subject and as told by the speaker. Mr. Wright was a program speaker. Another will address the club next Tuesday.

ELECTION SET FOR DEC. 15TH

Municipality Bay St. Louis To Ask Voters to Adopt Or Reject Gas Franchise

Pursuant to an order by the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners, at a recent meeting, the Board of Election Commissioners for the City of Bay St. Louis, composed of R. N. Blaize, A. E. Thiery and W. H. Driver, have called a special election to be held in the City of Bay St. Louis on Saturday, December 15, following four consecutive publications of an ordinance carrying the franchise for proposed gas in the City of Bay St. Louis.

Conditions of the franchise are set in full and may be read and studied. The reader will find that no undue privilege or privileges have been or are proposed to be given to the grantees by the grantors. It is estimated the cost to establish such service in Bay St. Louis will represent a minimum outlay of $50,000, not one cent of which is to be paid by the city or tax-payers and property holders. In fact the city will neither pay for any and all publications regarding the subject.

It is evident the city has tentatively contracted for the best and the most for the least money, procuring gas at a rate cheaper than elsewhere on the coast and even in New Orleans. The franchise must be adopted by the city but cannot be accomplished until the voters will have given their O. K. at the ballot boxes.

This done then the franchise is given and the company plans to have gas for consumers' use by July 1. Certainly no one will vote nay against the franchise. The city has nothing to lose, nothing to pay. But the long-suffering public without gas for domestic use will at last have a say and an inning for gas.

Both the ordinance (franchise) and notice calling for election appear in this issue of The Echo.

PLEA FOR OUR OWN ORPHANS

Letter Will Be Read This Sunday Morning From Bishop Gerow Soliciting Funds

Remember the orphans Thanksgiving week.

The ushers of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf will go from house to house next Sunday, November 25, during afternoon hours to solicit funds for two Catholic orphanages in Natchez. They will make the preliminary arrangements for this drive at a special meeting at the rectory this Friday (Nov. 23) evening.

The following letter will be read Sunday morning in every Catholic church on the coast. The letter was written at the Bishop's residence, 107 South Union street, Natchez, Miss., dated November 19, 1934 and is addressed to "My Dearly Beloved Brethren in Jesus Christ," viz:

"The little children in our orphanages look to you to provide them with food and clothing during this coming year. Misfortune has deprived them of their natural homes; they are entirely dependent upon the good people of this diocese, and I am sure that their pleadings will touch your heart and that you will generously give to them of what God has given to you.

"Eighty seven dollars will support an orphan for a year. What a consolation and a pleasure it would be to you to support a bright-eyed, innocent little boy or girl in our orphanage for this coming year. And what a blessing would be yours from God who has said: 'Amen, I say to you, as long as you did it to one of these My least brethren you did it to Me.'"

"If you cannot give sufficient funds to support a child for a year, then you might support one for a month.

"We earnestly appeal to you in the name of Christ to do your share in this work of charity."

DON'T FORGET THE RED CROSS

THE people of Bay St. Louis are urged not to overlook the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, which is now going on throughout the United States.—It is on in this section and The Echo hopes no one who has the dollar will pass up the opportunity to sign the roll call, or refuse to give so little for so much in return for suffering humanity. Even though it appears selfish give for your own personal satisfaction. Bay St. Louis and Hancock county always responds. This year will not be the exception.

Let some people get the idea that the government, with its huge program of relief, is meeting the needs of all types of relief, we point out that the Red Cross, in the year ending June 30, 1934, gave relief in 103 disasters to more than 123,000 individuals.

The National Red Cross has built up a thoroughly trained disaster relief organization, which functions as nothing else can when tragedy stalks through communities visited by sudden devastation. Let us remember that fires, floods, earthquakes and tornadoes have not lost their terror.

Help the Red Cross to be prepared to aid the stricken and helpless by maintaining your membership in this great organization of mercy and relief.

VOTING ON PUBLIC POLICIES

THE people of Mississippi will probably be interested in elections which took place this month in Massachusetts. Under a statute there, state representative or senatorial districts may place on their ballots at regular elections "public policy questions."

In line with this provision more than one hundred districts voted on whether the United States should join the League of Nations. Of 216,935 votes cast, 135,079 were "yes."

The practice of permitting the people of this country to vote directly upon public questions will create new interest in the matters concerned. Generally, we think the idea looks good, but the weight to be attached to such "expressions" of the public depends upon the number of voters who participate in the special referendum.

CHILDREN PREFER ATHLETICS

ADULTS who wish to help children might do well to follow the example of the civic committee of Englewood, N. J., which sent out a questionnaire to 1,500 grade and junior high school pupils to discover what the children preferred in the way of movie entertainment.

The surprise was that the answers revealed a preference for athletics instead of the movies if given their choice of something to do after school hours. This indicates that adults would do well in Hancock county if they see that children here have adequate opportunity for athletic games, with proper facilities for safe and supervised play.

KNOW MISSISSIPPI

OVER in Columbus is located the first college ever established in the world for exclusive education of women.

In Lowndes County at Rural Hall is the first consolidated school established in the world. Mississippi State College has the largest unit dormitory in the United States.

Many towns, larger than Slidell, have found it necessary to shut off their street lights entirely for the past year or so.—Slidell (La.) News.

Would the esteemed News kindly furnish names of "Many towns, larger than Slidell," shutting off their street lights entirely for the past year or so. It would be interesting to know. Slidell now burns its lights only to the midnight hour.

Next week the nation pauses long enough to return a few thanks, officially, to the Almighty.

Advertising has been wrongly used by many people but it has made many successes when used in the proper manner.

With nearly everybody specializing it might be a good idea for bright students to make an acquaintance with a liberal education.

Some time, in the future, everybody will have work again and there will be howls that will reach heaven from those who prefer relief.

Let's try and pay up all our small accounts as quickly as possible and help Bay St. Louis merchants, who have extended us credit.

President Roosevelt's visit to Mississippi Sunday morning was a marked event. Thousands of people from all sections gathered to see the great president. The reception was a fitting tribute.

Subscribers to the Sea Coast Echo whose time has expired will do us a great favor if they will promptly send in their renewals. While the subscription price to this newspaper is a small item to each individual the matter is vital to us.

THOUGHTS FOR THANKSGIVING TIME

THE Puritans, when they celebrated that first Thanksgiving, may not have had a whole lot to be thankful for, in comparison with what folks have today, but they were thankful, and they expressed their thanks in more than words.

Having seen hardly more than a fringe of their new country, and having undergone more than ordinary hardships in clearing land to plant, and having made a crop under more than ordinary difficulties, and having been harrowed by hostile Indians, those who passed through these hardships and came to the harvest were truly thankful.

Take a mind's eye view of those simple folk and then take a look at your surroundings in Bay St. Louis and vicinity today. There isn't a man, woman or child in this whole land but that can be thankful for at least some one thing during the past twelve months.

True the past twelve months have been trying. There has been a period of depression with scarcity of money in circulation, slowing up in the commercial world, shutdowns in the manufacturing world, drought in certain sections which have wrought havoc to agriculture and caused heavy losses to farmers, a vast army of unemployed men and women, and the attendant suffering therefrom, and all that, and yet there is still much to be thankful for.

The fellow who has good health is fortunate and should be truly thankful for this, if nothing more.

The fellow who has a job and is still receiving his regular pay check each week should be thankful. Even though the pay envelope does not contain as much as it may have in former years, it is something that many men have had taken from them.

The merchant who has weathered the storm incident to the business depression, has much to be thankful for.

The man whose family has not suffered the inroads of disease, and still has all of his loved ones with him, has much to be thankful for.

These and a thousand other things could be mentioned for which most of us could be thankful. Then one might take a look at the news columns of his paper and watch the unrest in other countries, the spirit of revolution and war which are constantly flaring, and be thankful that within these United States there is nothing of this to disturb the people.

Then look around and see what has been accomplished in the years that have passed since that first Thanksgiving, and one has more than he can possibly mention to be thankful for. Just check up on the progress which has been made and the advance of civilization, and if for nothing else, one living today can be truly thankful that he lives in 1934 and can have and enjoy the gifts of science and inventions of modern times.

Of course, if he is a good, loyal and patriotic citizen he can be truly thankful that he is a resident of Mississippi Gulf section, with its balmy and health-giving climate. Unlike other sections, no severe and long winters when the cost of clothes and fuel carries over a long period of months and cost is a hardship.

And the patriotic citizen can be thankful he has had an opportunity to further the progress and prosperity of this community and make it a better place in which to live.

BUSINESS PLANS FORWARD STEP

THE information comes from Washington that leaders of private business in many fields have determined that something should be done to shorten bread lines in this country and that private business should do it.

As a result of the recent election, with its vote of confidence in the administration, these leaders realize that there will be no immediate change in public policies and that, in order to prevent further objectionable legislation, it is up to business to show that the country can recover without new changes and even without some of the emergency laws now on the books.

This is encouraging. Everybody hopes that in some manner business will acquire that confidence for which it seeks and that financial, industrial and economic leaders of the nation will get together, pull together and put the United States on its feet again. In such a move lies the best prospect of preventing radical demands in Congress and the possible threat of ill-advised relief measures.

LOOK OUT FOR H. C. OF L.

WHO recalls the many references to the "high cost of living" during the decade that preceded 1923?

The old adjectives might as well be polished up because the present trend of living costs is upward. The average family has been increasing its expenditures for living, and the indication is that this movement will continue in the future.

Based on one dollar in 1913 the index number, kept by the Department of Labor, to gauge the cost of living reached its peak in December, 1920, $2. By June, 1924, it was $1.69 and in June, 1933, the low point, $1.28 was reached. Twelve months later the figure had risen to $1.36, and the next calculation, at the end of this year, will show higher figures.

GREAT FOUNDATIONS INTACT

APPRECIATING the great good that has been accomplished in this country by the several Rockefeller foundations, the Carnegie funds and other similar gifts for the benefit of the people, we have sometimes wondered how their capital funds withstood the shock of depression losses.

Happily, the figures are at hand, compiled in a survey that included fourteen funds. In 1933 the value of their assets were $548,000,000 or $4,000,000 more than in 1930. This is gratifying news to those who are cognizant of the splendid work accomplished by these funds during the past.

CAPITOL ACTIVITIES

(By Walker Wood, Secretary of State)

GEO. D. Riley, Insurance Commissioner, has issued a warning that unlicensed insurance companies are operating in Mississippi, both by mail and by unlicensed agents. The Insurance Commissioner, and his department, are anxious to protect the public, and ask for the cooperation of the public and offices of the various counties. If in doubt about any insurance company, or agent, take the matter up with the Insurance Department.

"Register Your Baby" is now the slogan in Mississippi, the U. S. Census Bureau at Washington, having mailed out cards to the heads of all families in the state. Parents are asked to fill out these cards at once and mail them to the department at Washington, no postage being required.

The Annual Red Cross Roll Call is now on throughout Mississippi, and will continue until Thanksgiving Day, November 29th. If you have not enrolled yet, do so at once. Remember, Mississippi has received fourteen dollars from the American Red Cross for every dollar that we have contributed to it. Now is the time that we can show an appreciation by going over the top in this state one hundred per cent.

The Week of November 23 to 29 has been designated in Mississippi as Crippled Children's Week. Throughout Mississippi there are many children who are crippled, and who will not be able to carry on life's work unless they are rehabilitated. These children deserve a break in life, and through modern surgery and medical treatment they can be given this break. Close not your pocket book against the pleas of these little ones.

On December 14, 1934, at 9 o'clock A. M., the Mississippi Text Book Commission will open bids for textbooks in the elementary schools of the state. The subjects covered are: Orthography, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, English Grammar, composition, history of the United States, physiology and health literature, civil government, elements of agriculture, elements of forestry, history of Mississippi, and such other branches as may be added by statute.

The State Charity Hospital will have a new ward made possible through the will of the late Rev. J. W. McLaurin, who passed away in 1910. This bequest was for $25,000, but could not be touched until the interest had caused the principal to amount to $50,000. The amount has now, through wise investment, reached $53,000, so $3,000 is immediately available for the new ward. Each year the interest, amounting to $2,500 will be available to the Hospital for such purposes as needed.

The Secretary of State, Walker Wood, spent several days last week in attendance at the National Association of Securities Commissioners. In the work of protecting the people of Mississippi against fraudulent Stock Salesmen and the sale of bogus stocks Mr. Wood has been most zealous, and from his attendance at the National meeting, he received some new ideas along this line, which he will use in protecting Mississippians in the administration of the "Blue Sky Laws" of the State.

This week the work of remodeling and decoration of the Central Dome of the New Capitol will be begun. For some reason when the Capitol was erected the Central Dome was never completed as far as decorating was concerned. This defect will now be resplendent in beauty and coloring.

Helpful Hint

Most men and women who are nationally known have attained their position by working overtime and not by watching the clock. A person will never succeed in anything he does if he continually directs his gaze to the hands of the clock when his mind should be on his work. YOU should always remember that this is true in any undertaking, large or small!

SAUNTERINGS From Where The West Begins.

SAN Antonio was host last week to approximately 3,000 doctors attending the 1934 Southern Medical Association convention. Sixteen southern states were represented at the successful and educational meeting, which ended Friday with election of the following officers: Dr. H. Marshall Taylor of Jacksonville, Fla., president; Dr. J. Manning Venable of San Antonio, first vice president and Dr. S. O. Black of Spartanburg, S. C., second vice president.

The 1935 convention of the Southern Medical Association will be held at St. Louis.

Dr. A. P. Smith, of Bay St. Louis, was an active participant at the Southern Medical Association Convention here. Dr. Smith was accompanied by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Charles Clark.

The distinguished Mississippi Gulf Coast visitors were welcomed by their many friends and acquaintances in San Antonio, and were honored guests at numerous social functions during an enjoyable stay in the city—where the West begins. Adios, amigos, come again to San Antonio, mue pronto.

Upon being notified of the bomb's location, flying field officials were promptly dispatched to the scene to discharge the deadly missile. Officials were unable to discover the source of the bomb's appearance.

A WAR is in between leading San Antonio ice manufacturers. Ice is being retailed at the platform for 10 cents a hundred pounds. Wholesale prices are advertised at 5 cents per hundred pounds in ton lots. Looks like a cold-blooded ice "tong" war. Eh, What?

SWINDLING trusting investors out of hard-earned cash may be disguised as high finance manipulating if the utility magnet can afford a battery of high-powered legal defense, but a down-and-out tramp who stole 29 pennies and 2 bus fare tokens from a residence will probably discover that the law sternly demands "an eye for an eye." The same laws should apply for the high and lowly alike.

A 10-POINT buck was added to the many deer trophies of vice president John Nance Garner, the opening day of the deer season in Texas. Garner is reputed to be a crack shot with a rifle, and a fisherman of long experience. Garner lives at Uvalde, Texas, 89 miles west of San Antonio.

AMONG numerous nimrods returning from deer hunts over the week end with a kill to prove unerring marksmanship was Wallace Beery, now on location in San Antonio filming "West Point of the Air." The famous movie "tough guy," bagged a 6-point buck. Beery flew his own plane to a nearby ranch for the hunt.

THE honor of bringing the first deer of the season to a local newspaper office was won by George Friedrich, who brought down a 9-point buck with his first shot. He will have the deer head mounted free by a taxidermist as a prize for his hunting skill.

A unique angle is presented considering the fact the deer was killed only 10 miles from San Antonio, a city of nearly 300,000 population.

It is unlikely such a huntman's paradise exists anywhere else in the United States. A couple hours after daybreak on opening day approximately half-a-hundred hunters had reported to the newspaper office with deer kills. Several female nimrods were listed among the sharpshooters.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

THE visiting teams of Baton Rouge turned in a double victory against the Gold J's last Saturday night. The Junior team of Baton Rouge started off with a bang, and was soon leading the home team. The J's however, staged a splendid comeback in the third quarter and were leading by a few points. But in the final quarter, the Red Stickers came into their own again, and the game ended with the score 33-28, in favor of the Red Stickers.

The varsity team of S. J. A. fared no better, and fought a losing game from the beginning. Of course, it was the first game of the season, but the J's didn't seem to have the fine comeback spirit which has been the trademark of the former teams. Heretofore, the Red Stickers have shown themselves to be splendid sports, and have accepted their defeats with a smile, and the J's hope that they accepted their defeat as gracefully, and left as good an impression on the minds of the Stickers as their sister team left on theirs. The Gold J's are looking forward to their return game with the Stickers, and they will try to bring home the bacon when they meet them again.

BAY HIGH TIGERS TO PLAY ANNUAL GAME WITH KILN, NOV. 28

J. Scafile, Former Tulane Captain Coach of Kiln—Fans Keyed Up To Extreme Pitch

The Bay High Tigers will play their annual classic with the Kiln High Wildcats, on Wednesday, November 28.

This year the Wildcats are coached by John Scafile, former captain of Tulane's Rose Bowl team. The Wildcats will be a miniature Tulane team on the field, as they have the famous Minnesota shift that Tulane uses. This will not be the first time that the Tigers will be playing against such a shift. Fortier used it, and the Rock-a-Chaws, with whom the Tigers have been practicing, also include it in their plays.

Another interesting factor of the game will be the fact that Coach "Bish" Clark coached the Wildcats last year. At that time the Kiln-Bay High game ended in a scoreless tie.

Seven members of this year's squad will play their last game of football for their school. These seniors are: Joe Loiacono and Tyrell Manieri, backfield stars; Francis Nelsin, Gordon Hillis and Leo Parker, ends; and Charles Kergosien and Laurie Ferchaud, tackles. Loiacono is a four-letter man, and Nelson a three-letter man. Manieri, Hillis and Kergosien have two letters, while Parker and Ferchaud are letter men of this year.

The Way to A Man's Heart

Every woman believes that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. And is not this the truth? For show me the man who would not willingly give up anything that is dear to him in exchange for one savory bite to eat when he is hungry. What better way is there to tempt a man than with a delicious, spicy morsel of food? It is his greatest weakness. When the intoxicating, aromatic perfume of a simmering roast prevades the household, how it soothes his senses. Then, after he partakes generously of this angelic delicacy, he is quieted, contented, and at peace with the world.

So take heed, all ye girls of today, and learn how to prepare food in the most enticing manner, for if you wish to catch a man and keep him, you must first be an expert in the art of cookery.

RED CROSS AGENCIES SAFEGUARD HEALTH

First Aid, Life Saving, Nursing Care, Promote Health and Safety

Five outstanding services make up the health-conservation program of the American Red Cross, according to the annual report just issued in Washington. These services are first aid and life saving, which together have trained more than a million persons; nursing, with an active enrollment of 36,133 registered nurses; Public Health Nursing, conducted by 750 nurses in 424 chapters last year; and Home Hygiene, which has taught more than 700,000 men and women simple ways of caring for the sick at home.

"The achievements of the Red Cross in public health nursing place it among the leaders in this field," said James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the state and federal agencies, and the Red Cross continues to establish services in other new fields. Red Cross nurses made more than a million visits to patients last year, and 629,025 children in schools were inspected.

"Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick are especially important in times of depression, because they teach families to maintain hygienic conditions in their own homes and to recognize symptoms of illness early enough to prevent serious consequences."

"Our courses in first aid have been instrumental in saving lives of the injured; in safeguarding the accident victim until the physician arrives, and in reducing time lost by workers in factories, mines and other industries. We are also giving the course extensively to police and fire departments throughout the country, and to state highway patrols."

Everyone is invited to join the Red Cross during the annual membership roll call which continues from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, to have a part in the health program and the other humanitarian services of the Red Cross.

CENTRAL SCHOOL HAS NEW HEALTH CLUB BY MISS. STATE BOARD

Home Nursing Group Organized With Miss Brown, Touro Graduate, as Sponsor.

A new school club, known as the Home Nursing Club, was organized at Bay High School, on Monday, October 22. The sponsor of the club is Miss Brown of Pass Christian. Miss Brown is a trained nurse, and a graduate of the Touro Infirmary of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Home Nursing is a part of the studies of the Home Economics class under Miss Blanks. But to relieve Miss Blanks and to make the course in Home Nursing more complete, the Home Nursing Club was formed.

Of the first year Home Economics Class, those chosen as officers in the Home Nursing club are: Bessie Mitchell, leader of committees; Clifford Kimmel, secretary; Verdia Ladner, chairman of room; Leota Johnson, chairman of supplies. In addition to these there are about twenty pupils in the first year Home Economics Class.

The officers in the Home Nursing Club of the second year Home Economics Class are, Elizabeth Wells, Leader of committees; Abbie Bourgeois, secretary; Mary Louise Crawford, chairman of supplies; Murhl Kergosien, chairman of room. The second year Home Economics Class is slightly smaller than the first year class.

The teachings of the Home Nursing Club consists of first aid, a study of how to apply first aid treatment to an injured person; practice nursing, a practice in attending a patient; and communicable diseases, an interesting study of contagious or infectious diseases, and how to prevent and control them.

The Home Nursing Club members were given the State Nursing test on November 13, and all of those who passed the test were given diplomas. No one failed the test.

RED CROSS RELIEF GIVEN TO VICTIMS IN 103 DISASTERS

Tornadoes, Fires, Hurricanes,
Floods, Epidemics, Make
Record of Year

A history of the disasters in the United States in any year is written annually by the American Red Cross, according to Chairman John Barton Payne, commenting on the report for the year ending June 30, 1934, which has just been issued in Washington.

"Because of the charter provision which places upon the Red Cross the responsibility for disaster relief, our chapter and staff workers are notified of all calamities of storm and fire and flood," he continued. "The emergency period may prove to be brief, in cases where the victims have their own resources to draw on. While it lasts, however, whether it brings the immediate need of food, clothing and shelter for the homeless, or entails a program of investigation and rehabilitation, the Red Cross is the official director of all relief."

A great variation in type, and a wide geographical distribution, characterize the 103 disasters reported last year. Tornadoes, hurricanes, hail storms and other storms made up almost one half of the total. Especially numerous were the tropical storms which swept in from the sea to the Atlantic and Gulf Coast region. There were 21 storms of this type, establishing a new record for frequency.

Next in number to storms were disasters of fire, the report shows. Red Cross aid was given following 25 fires in the United States and insular possessions. The most spectacular was the Chicago stockyards fire, where Red Cross workers arrived shortly after the fire started, administering relief until the emergency period passed, giving first aid to about 1,000 persons.

Floods caused serious damage in some sections, 17 calling for Red Cross relief. Three explosions were reported, and three epidemics of malaria and typhoid fever. A school bus wreck was one of the year's tragedies for which Red Cross funds were needed for relief and rehabilitation.

"Technique acquired by the Red Cross in these disasters and the hundreds of others we have handled is at the service of the public," Chairman Payne said. "To make this possible the disaster relief service has issued a manual containing instructions for chapters interested in advance preparations for emergencies. Disaster institutes were held last year in 23 strategic locations, to enable Red Cross and civic workers to formulate plans for possible disaster emergencies in their communities."

Support of the disaster relief activities of the Red Cross comes from the annual roll call held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

THE housewife can take much of the hard work out of a lot of her cooking by using cracker recipes. They are delicious and a grand addition to the menu. Try these:

Ginger Tea Muffins

- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1-4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter melted
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons baking powder
- 1 package cream cheese

Roll ginger snaps fine and reserve 2 tablespoons of crumbs. Add sugar, salt and melted butter. Heat milk and pour over ginger snap mixture. Add beaten egg and baking powder. Bake in greased muffin pans in a hot oven 20 to 35 minutes. Remove from pans, spread with cream cheese, sprinkle with crumbs.

SHIP ISLAND AND FORT MASSACHUSETTS OFF GULF COAST LINE

Was Assembling Place For
Gen. Butler's Troops—
Admiral Farragut's
Fleet Assembled
In 1862

BY JOHN H. LANG
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

Ship Island is in Mississippi Sound, 12 miles off the Southern Coast of Mississippi, is one of the chain of islands cutting Mississippi Sound from the Gulf of Mexico. It is a sandy ridge of perhaps eight or ten feet above sea level, about twelve miles from east to west and now about 1/2 to 1 mile at the widest point.

The island is famous as the site of Fort Massachusetts and was the assembling point for General Butler's troops and Admiral Farragut's fleet for the attack on New Orleans in 1862. There is a lighthouse near the Fort on the West End of the island, the U. S. Quarantine Station on the East End.

When the South seceded in 1861 there was an old fort or battery there, which was taken over by the Confederacy. It was soon determined that they could not hold it, so they evacuated the island and blew up the fort.

"I saw the smoke of the burning fort at the time," I have just read several letters and examined a detailed sketch of the island and the names of the troops there in 1862, by one Oscar Pelton, of Portland, Oregon (dated 1917) who was a member of the 13th Maine regiment. He says that Senator Nelson, who was once Governor of Maine was then a corporal in the fourth Maine regiment. His sketch gives the location of all camp buildings etc. The Fort and General Butler's headquarters. This map shows the following troops there at the time: 4th Wisconsin, 8th New Hampshire, 7th and 8th Vermont, 6th Michigan, 21st Indiana, 12, 13, 14 and 15 Maine, 1st Massachusetts battery. There were 15 regiments and two batteries. Mr. Pelton describes a tropical storm that swept over the island at that time and states that five men were killed of the 6th Michigan regiment; that they all had to stand up all night to hold down their tents. He spoke of the government having sent down a cargo of bricks; these bricks were to be used to build the "Fort Massachusetts" so named for Butler's state and the troops there from his state.

He mentions having been to "Biloxi" and Pass Christian and in Lake Pontchartrain, to New Orleans. After being absent on detailed duty he was returned to the island to guard the Confederate prisoners, many of whom I know were confined there, many died, and were buried on the island. At one time there were many young cadets (Mobile) were captured and sent to the island. Many stories about Fort Massachusetts have been told but the true facts are here; the fort was built during the latter part of the war, the guns were mounted in 1872; these guns were ten-inch smooth bore "Rodmans" several fifteen-inch Rodmans on top. These guns were broken up with dynamite only a few years ago and sold as junk.

The island had been so badly washed out and cut away by storms that it is now only half the area it was at the time the fort was built and has been abandoned by the government, it is now standing in the waters of the sound. Recently the property was acquired by the American Legion of Gulfport, who are trying to make it a resort.

The bricks for the Fort were brought from Philadelphia, the granite finishings from Maine. I know one man still living, an ex-Confederate who worked on the gun emplacement in 1872.

It is possible that there may be some members still living of those regiments who will recall those times as did Oscar Pelton, of Portland, Oregon. General Butler died only a few years ago, but any veteran of those days must be in his nineties; even if he were only 18 in 1862.

I was a youth of eight years and living within fourteen miles of Ship Island, and distinctly remember many of the occurrences of those strenuous times.

We were blockaded and pretty near starved; the people could get no salt so boiled the sea water to evaporation and condensed it into salt; which was used for money.

If any thus obtained was furnished to our government or troops, the "Yankees" from Ship Island would come and blow up the kettles to make salt.

ed ham. Bake in moderate oven 40 minutes.

Chili Loaf

- 1 egg beaten
- 1/2 pound round steak ground
- 1 onion minced
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 green pepper chopped
- 1 teaspoon butter

Combine all ingredients except butter. Shape into a loaf and dot with the butter. Bake in a moderate oven about 1 hour. Serve with tomato sauce.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

THANKSGIVING

IN spite of all the assurances that we see in the papers about better business, it seems a little forced to celebrate a day of thanksgiving for national blessings at this time since most of us know of the alleged recovery from the depression only by hearsay. Of course the great majority of us are better off materially than the Pilgrims in Massachusetts on the first Thanksgiving Day, or for many anniversaries afterwards. All they had that first day was the arrival of a small ship from their old homes in England with good news and a few supplies. However, our own present state is not heartening in comparison with what it was a few years ago. Yet a little analysis will disclose that we do have great reason to "repair to our usual places of worship and render thanks to Almighty God," as the proclamations often word it. Moreover, we might well mingle humiliation and confession with our praise.

The old economics used to give three factors for the production of wealth. The first of these they call Land, which includes not only the soil, but also forests, mines, water power and all the other natural resources of a country. Of these we have not only an abundant supply, but a great surplus. The Secretary of Agriculture says that we shall have to abandon great areas of our present farm land because we cannot consume their produce. We have been paying our farmers not to produce. The problem of our oil wells, coal fields, water power and other natural sources of wealth is not to produce, but to check production. It seems that God has blessed us above all other people in this favored country.

The second factor is Labor, which includes all work of head and hand. Again we have great numbers of the most highly skilled workers of every kind, from experienced executives and highly educated professional men to manual workers of every grade of skill. We have so much that there is a great surplus, amounting to a quarter more than we know how to use, and they are not only competent, but anxious to produce more and more wealth out of the immense resources of the nation.

The third factor of the three is Capital, which is the product of land and labor, saved and applied to further production. When a man cuts and shapes himself a fishpole, or a stone axe, or when the General Motors builds a new factory out of its earnings, that is capital. Again we have far more than we know how to use. We have railroads that we cannot keep busy, mills and factories standing idle, or working at a small fraction of their capacity, magnificent buildings that are half empty of the stores and offices that should fill them and thousands of millions of dollars that the banks are unable to loan to responsible borrowers.

"Prove we now herewith, saith Jehovah of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it. . . . And all nations shall call you happy; for ye shall be a delightful land, saith Jehovah of Hosts." No more precise statement could be written of the reasons we have for thankfulness to Divine Providence. No nation in all history ever fulfilled that prophecy before.

More recently the economists have admitted a fourth factor in the production of wealth, a factor with which God has very little to do, at least in too many cases. That fourth factor is Management. We recognize its importance at once, for we all know that one man, or one system, will succeed where another will fail, simply because one is a better manager than the other, or because one is correct and the other is defective. If we are suffering today for lack of material things it must be because of bad management of the extraordinary wealth that God has given us.

It is very meet, right and our bounden duty at all times to return thanks to Almighty God for his many benefits to us. It is very fitting that this obligation, and that our people, each in his accustomed manner, should offer their united tribute of praise. God has not failed.

At the same time that we acknowledge the infinite goodness of the "Father of Lights," from whom comes every good and perfect gift, it is also reasonable and just that we should make humble confession of our own faults in so using the abundance poured upon us as to inflict needless and painful poverty on millions of our fellow-citizens. We have nullified the divine miracle of abundance by the human miracle of deprivation and want. It is we, ourselves who are responsible for our own misery.

"O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon His name: make known His deeds among the people."

"Sing unto Him, sing praise unto Him; tell ye of all His wondrous works."

Trained to Save Lives

First aid certificates were issued by the Red Cross last year to 130,972 persons who finished the course of instruction put on by the chapters. Included in this list were more than 70,000 foremen, time clerks and other key employees on Federal Civil Works projects. Further evidence of the government's endorsement of the first aid program is found in projects now under way where Red Cross chapters, at the request of the War Department, are giving first aid instruction in CCC camps. Where it has been requested by Army engineers the same instruction is also made available to key men working on federal water conservancy and flood control projects.

The Printed WORD

The printed word reaches more people sooner than verbal or personal contacts. It has an approach that rivals that of the best salesman; it often gets in where real salesmen fear to tread. If your business seems to be slacking up try treating it the printed word way. You will be rewarded with results.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

THE Boy Scout Court of Honor which is held every three months, was held on Wednesday, November 14th at the City Hall in Pass Christian.

The Court of Honor was opened by the Scout Oath led by William Canon of Troop 209, after which twelve boys representing the four troops of the Bay-Pass District said the twelve Scout laws. The colors were presented by Troop 209 and Scout Canon led the Pledge of Allegiance. Scout Charles Henry was presented with the Life Scout badge, which was the highest award received, while about eight scouts received Star Scout badges, while others received Second and First Class badges and a number of "Tenderfoots" were enrolled. Elliott Cowan and was awarded the book "Matching Mountains with the Boy Scout Uniform" as the winner of the butterfly contest held by Troop 208.

All Boy Scouts of this region will attend the Tulane-Sewanee football game to be played Saturday, November 24., and the scouts have been drilling in preparation of the day, as they will march from the old stadium to the new. All Scouts are required to present their registration cards at the stadium. The boys are passing tests rapidly and all hope to advance a rank by next Court of Honor.

Girl Scouts to Sing Christmas Carols

Mrs. M. V. Moss will direct a group of Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts in learning to sing Christmas Carols which will be sung on Christmas Eve.

Three Girl Scouts are eagerly preparing for and passing merit badges and tests to enlarge the number of points credited to their various patrols. Several girls passed their First Aid Badges to Mrs. Robertson on Saturday, November 17, and in hope that many more girls will become interested in this line of study.

Our own idea is that President Roosevelt can let his Democrats fight it out among themselves and then tip the balance when he wants to by throwing his support to either side of the question debated.

Slower Driving For Winter Months Advised by Highway Commission

Mississippi motorists are warned by Sam J. Dalton, maintenance engineer of the State Highway Department and head of the state police patrol, to begin adjusting their driving habits to the changing weather conditions which come with the approach of winter months.

"Every year when the rainy season hits the state there is a toll of injuries among motorists who try to maintain the same speeds as during dry weather," Engineer Dalton said. "It would seem that many drivers do not remember from one winter to the next in so far as road dangers are concerned. Just make up your mind not to be in a hurry and you will get to your destination a lot quicker than if you take a speed detour to a hospital."

Let's Make It a Golden Eagle

WE DO OUR PART

Most of the business firms in this territory have signed up under the Blue Eagle, but complying with Codes in the matter of hours, wages and employment are not to insure a healthy and prosperous life for our blue-plumaged friend.

Increased wages, if they are hoarded wages, or spent in distant communities, will not bring back prosperity.

Increased buying, increased confidence, increased effort—business effort—will bring back lost trade.

Expressed more simply—what every firm flying the Blue Eagle hopes for and needs is more business done the NRA way.

THE EAGLE IN OUR WINDOW MEANS—

Means that we are members of the National Editorial Association, which has been designated the National Code Authority for printers and publishers of our class.

That we are members of the Mississippi Press Association, which is Regional Code Authority for printers and publishers in Mississippi.

That we pay our dues to these associations. That we contribute to the expenses of Code Administration. (President Roosevelt has issued an order allowing only those firms which contribute to Code Administration to display the Blue Eagle.)

Our employees are paid wages prescribed by the Graphic Arts Code. As a matter of fact, we pay above the minimum.

We have cut a full day's time off our work week, so as to spread employment and give our employees more time for profitable leisure and home improvement.

We have been the most consistent and effective supporter in this section for the National Recovery Act. Newspaper publicity has proved its value to the NRA.

When you buy from us you buy from a firm that in theory and practice is supporting the National Recovery Act.

Our employees in turn appreciate the business which firms give us.

Think of these things when buying advertising and printing.

Advertising will bring you that business. It will loosen the key that is holding back the flow of buying. It will restore the confidence that withered away under the blasts of depression.

Good printing—executed by men who have spent a lifetime in making type live—will recreate the spending idea and cause people to buy the things they need.

Advertising—newspaper advertising—has no equal nor has anything ever taken its place as business and sales promotion. Think this over yourself, then talk to us.

At one place, near Perkinson, the bridge disappeared and both cars were in water up to the seats.

It was necessary to procure assistance and help from Perkinson College nearby was prompt and the cars pulled through their perilous positions. It was a hard drive home due to high water on all sides and over the highway but the ladies managed to reach home early that night none the worse for their trying experience, save for being wet—very wet.

496-Foot Fishing

Seine Assembled by George Heitzmann

A fishing seine of 496 feet in length, assembled and fished by George Heitzmann, resident Hancock street, was delivered this week to Chas. B. Mollere, Waveland Groceries owner and operator, who gave the order for the big net some time since. The net is not only nearly 500 ft. long but is six feet deep, fully finished with such rope, cork, metal sinkers, etc., as necessary and pronounced a splendid piece of workmanship and well made in every particular.

Mr. Mollere gave this order for his own personal use and pleasure, to be used out in the open salt waters of the sound. During the week Mr. Mollere and brother Joseph and others have experienced marked success with the seine in the vicinity of St. Joe Island and adjacent waters. They are using it at present for pleasure, dividing their bountiful catch of red fish and trout or neighbors and other friends. Later, however, Mr. Mollere stated the seine will be used for commercial purposes in connection with his big store. Also to supply fish for feeding to the inmates of his zoo, on the store premises.
